

XM Instant Traffic and Weather is an invaluable service to satellite radio listeners providing important information that would otherwise be unavailable in remote areas of the country not served by broadcast radio. In addition, many areas exist where local broadcast radio stations do not provide this information in their content or at a time preferred by the radio listener. XM Radio service makes up for this. I urge the FCC to reject NAB's petition 04-160.